Volume 122 Nos. 1–2 August 2000

Special Section:
The Science of Managing Forests to Sustain Water Resources

Guest-editors:
Robert T. Brooks and Noël Lust

Preface 1
N. BARTSCH / Element Release in Beech (Fagus sylvatica L.) Forest Gaps 3–16
J. CROKE, P. HAIRSINE and P. FOGARTY / Nutrient Movement Due to Overland Flow in Managed Native Eucalyptus Forests, Southeastern Australia 17–35
M. KOHLER, K.V. WILPERT and E.E. HILDEBRAND / The Soil Skeleton as a Source for the Short-Term Supply of 'Base Cations' in Forest Soils of the Black Forest (Germany) 37–48
L. DE KEERSMAEKER, J. NEIRYNCK, D. MADDELEIN, A. DE SCHRIJVER and N. LUST / Soil Water Chemistry and Revegetation of a Limed Clearcut in a Nitrogen Saturated Forest 49–62
J.L. CAMPBELL, C. EAGAR, W.H. McDOWELL and J.W. HORNBECK / Analysis of Nitrogen Dynamics in the Lye Brook Wilderness Area, Vermont, USA 63–75
A. DE SCHRIJVER, G. VAN HOYDONCK, L. NACHTERGALE, L. DE KEERSMAEKER, S. MUSSCHE and N. LUST / Comparison of Nitrate Leaching under Silver Birch (Betula Pendula) and Corsican Pine (Pinus Nitra SSP. Laricio) in Flanders (Belgium) 77–91
G. RABEN, H. ANDREAE and M. MEYER-HEISIG / Long-Term Acid Load and Its Consequences in Forest Ecosystems of Saxony (Germany) 93–103
K. VAN WILPERT, D. ZIRLEWAGEN and M. KOHLER / To What Extent Can Silviculture Enhance Sustainability of Forest Sites Under the Immission Regime in Central Europe? 105–120
S.T. LACEY / Runoff and Sediment Attenuation by Undisturbed and Lightly Disturbed Forest Buffers 121–138
R.J. STEEDMAN and R.L. FRANCE / Origin and Transport of Aeolian Sediments from New Clearcuts into Boreal Lakes, Northwestern Ontario, Canada 139–152
R. FRANCE, R. STEEDMAN, R. LEHMANN and R. PETERS / Landscape Modification of DOC Concentration in Boreal Lakes: Implications for UV-B Sensitivity 153–162

Regular Section

P. PARKPAIN, S. SREESAI and R.D. DELAUNE / Bioavailability of Heavy Metals in Sewage Sludge-Amended Thai Soils 163–182
F.S. BOUDALA, I. FOLKINS, S. BEAUCHAMP, R. TORDON, J. NEIMA and B. JOHNSON / Mercury Flux Measurements over Air and Water in Kejimkujik National Park, Nova Scotia 183–202
J.S. RIEUWERTS, M.E. FARAGO, M. CIKRT and V. BENCKO / Differences in Lead Bioavailability Between a Smelting and a Mining Area 203–229
S.M. PERKINS, G.M. FILIPPELLI and C.J. SOUCH / Airborne Trace Metal Contamination of Wetland Sediments at Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore 231–260

Volume 122 Nos. 3–4 September 2000

P.A. TANNER and A.Y.S. WONG / Soluble Trace Metals and Major Ionic Species in the Bulk Deposition and Atmosphere of Hong Kong 261–279

Z. YOUCAI, L. JIANGGYING, H. RENHUA and G. GUOWEI / Long-term Monitoring and Prediction for Leachate Concentrations in Shanghai Refuse Landfill 281–297

L.J. EVANS / Fractionation and Aquous Speciation of Zinc in a Lake Polluted by Mining Activities, Flin Flong, Canada 299–316

K. AHMAD and D. CARBOO / Speciation of As(III) and As(V) in Some Ghanaian Gold Tailings by a Simple Distillation Method 317–326

R.S. MERKEL and R. HICKEY-VARGAS / Element and Sediment Accumulation Rates in the Florida Everglades 327–349

P. THEODORATOS, N. PAPASSIOPI, T. GEORGOUDIS and A. KONTOPOULOS / Selective Removal of Lead from Calcareous Polluted Soils Using the Ca-EDTA Salt 351–368

E.K. YANFUL, M.P. ORLANDEA and M. ELIASZIW / Controlling Acid Drainage in a Pyritic Mine Waste Rock. Part I: Statistical Analysis of Drainage Data 369–388

D. COPPLESTONE, M.S. JOHNSON and S.R. JONES / Radionuclide Behaviour and Transport in a Coniferous Woodland Ecosystem: The Distribution of Radionuclides in Soil and Leaf Litter 389–404

E-L. VISKARI and L. KÄRENLAMPI / Roadside Scots Pine as an Indicator of Deicing Salt Use – A Comparative Study from Two Consecutive Winters 405–419

G. CHRISTOPH and J. DERMIETZEL / The Impact of a Contaminated Lignite Seam on Groundwater Quality in the Aquifer System of the Bitterfeld Region – Modeling of Groundwater Contamination 421–431

P.A. TANNER and T.W. FAI / Small-Scale Horizontal Variations in Ionic Concentrations of Bulk Deposition from Hong Kong 433–448

L. SCHWENDENMANN / Soil Properties of Boreal Riparian Plant Communities in Relation to Natural Succession and Clear-Cutting, Peace River Lowlands, Wood Buffalo National Park, Canada 449–467

Authors Index 469–470
